To Whom It May Concern,

In 2014, after an extensive evaluation process, we contracted with Seating Solutions to renovate the seating at Forest Hills Stadium in Forest Hills NY. The 90-year old stadium had been gutted and all that remained were bare concrete steps. Seating Solutions provided design expertise and showed us how we could maximize our seat count while remaining code compliant and providing the best experience for our spectators, we didn't even have to hire an architect.

Over 10,000 aluminum bench seats were installed in the seating bowl and another 1,400 VIP tip up seats were installed on custom aluminum decks that fit seamlessly into the stadium. The aisles were all redesigned to be code compliant using a custom step overlay system that Seating Solutions designed specifically for our project. Seat numbers and integrated midstep aisle letter signage were installed to help our spectators properly navigate the stadium, which had been a challenge previous to the renovation. All aisles had code compliant aisle handrails with aisle lights for added safety, and Seating Solutions even designed and installed an adjustable canopy for our FOH with only one day's notice before our first concert and installed it hours before our first show.

Seating Solutions has been a true partner. They understand our vision for the stadium and have continually brought good ideas to the table. They care about our business (and our budgets) and have been committed to our project in a way that goes beyond what we ever would have expected from a vendor. Our relationship has extended well beyond the original installation of the seats. Seating Solutions has presented us with numerous ways maximize our ticketing revenue, and continue to be a valuable resource for us as we re-establish our venue. They have continued to assist us with VIP seating options and Ultimate Floor Track seating for our concerts, and this year we are working with Scott and his team to add additional VIP sections. Scott's creative design eye and willingness to engage in the operational and spatial challenges of our venue have truly been invaluable. He routinely makes the impossible possible.

I strongly recommend Seating Solutions for any seating project where you need a qualified, committed, and experienced partner who can deliver on what they promise and bring added value to your project. The transformation from a dilapidated eye sore to the best concert experience of any venue in New York could not have been accomplished without Seating Solutions. If you have any questions or would like to hear more about our experience please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
